

Calling all Writers!! 2012 Culture & Global Issues Writing Program

Meet our Winter Student Ambassadors

October

Yoni Kalin is in 11th grade at The Field School. His One World Reflection explored religion in Israel.

November

Laila Kunaish is in 7th grade at Alice Deal Middle School. Her One World Reflection looked at Muslim identity and the media.

December

Nancy Jin is in 8th grade at Tilden Middle School. Her One World Reflection discussed childhood obesity.

Dear Educators,

Help your students become our 2012 One World Student Ambassadors through the power of their writing! Over the last four years, over 1,000 students from 30 schools in the Capital Region have submitted to the Culture & Global Issues Writing Program.

One World Education helps teachers like you bring relevant, meaningful, writing topics and themes to your classroom. Visit www.oneworldeducation.org to find lesson plans, writing guides, peer-to-peer rubrics, and videos from our Student Ambassadors to your students. One World Lesson Plans include important themes such as autism, awareness, human rights, cultural identity, bullying, world religions, economic inequality, and many more topics found in our online database.

Submission Deadline for the Culture & Global Issues Writing Program is March 9, 2012.

The One World Education Team

Being a One World Student Ambassador Opens Doors - Students:

- * Become published writers
- * Gain access to new scholarship opportunities
- * Have curriculum aligned with their writing
- * Receive an award at 2012 Youth, Culture & Learning Celebration

www.oneworldeducation.org

Explore, Learn, Share, Teach... One World Education

Please Join Us!

2012 Youth, Culture & Learning Celebration

When: Tuesday, May 1, 2012

Where: Gala Theater

Time: 7:00-9:00 pm